Loan Origination
Software

Modern financial institutions are adapting to the demands of an increasingly dynamic and unpredictable business environment, while simultaneously striving to maintain a competitive edge and maximize new opportunities for business growth.

Learn how Newgen's commercial loan origination software can enable you to quickly and smoothly originate, process, disburse, and monitor loans, while ensuring compliance.

Key Challenges Faced by Financial Institutions

- Disjointed processes
- Rapidly evolving business needs
- Increased competition
- Complex risk calculations
- Multiple product types
- Difficulty staying on top of regulatory requirements
- Low quality customer service
- Lack of visibility and insights into the process lifecycle
- Increased demand for remote operations

Newgen's Commercial Loan Origination Software

Newgen's commercial loan origination software, built on a low code digital transformation platform, helps you automate your commercial lending processes, for all loan types, while ensuring compliance and security. Uninterrupted access to contextual information allows you to underwrite loans competitively and intelligently engage your customers.

The software features online, self-service portals for various stakeholders, enabling you to manage the entire loan lifecycle anytime, anywhere. It provides your financial institution with the agility and scalability to easily adapt to changing market dynamics.

Additionally, Newgen's commercial lending software helps you to:

Manage Risk Throughout the Lending Lifecycle

Leverage methodical portfolio monitoring, automated covenant tracking, risk rating, stress testing, ratio analysis, and similar tools to uncover the benefits of end-to-end risk management

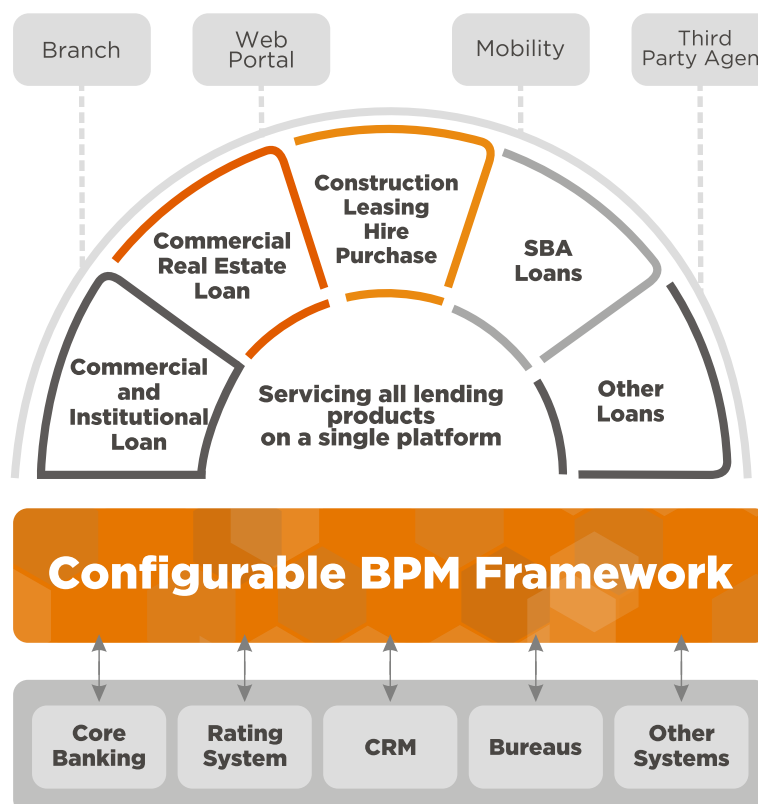

Ensure Compliance and Process Standardization

Ensure compliance and risk optimization by closely monitoring process SLAs across the lending lifecycle. Also, track and review covenants in accordance with credit policy and regulations

Increase Operational Efficiency

Streamline your approval cycles and implement rule-driven underwriting and documentation to ensure faster transactions and stay ahead of your competition
