

Rani Turning dream into reality

Self-motivation is the key, and without it, one cannot unlock success. This statement holds true for Rani's story—a proud alumni of Newgen's Digital Discovery Paathshala (NDDP)

THE FAMILY BACKGROUND

Rani's roots are in a small village in Gorakhpur, Uttar Pradesh. A few years ago, her family moved to Okhla, New Delhi, hoping for a brighter future. Her father works at a printing press, and her mother manages the household. Rani has an elder brother, who works as a deliveryman for Amazon. Her younger brother, who is in grade 7, is pursuing his education. Her three elder sisters are married and stay near their native village.

ACADEMIC JOURNEY AND THE ROLE OF NDDP

Rani has been a self-motivated person and sincere in studies. Her hard work and determination paid off really well when she achieved a distinction in her grade 12, considerably improving her academic scores.

During the challenging times of the COVID pandemic, Rani came across Newgen CSR's digital education program—NDDP. And, this program became the guiding light for her curious heart.

In the isolation of the four-walled room that confined her during the lockdown, the tab provided to her by NDDP became a beam of hope that encouraged her to continue her studies. She was in grade 10 during the lockdown, and the sudden shift to an online teaching method took a toll on her due to her family's financial difficulties. She fondly recalls, "NDDP ensured that my studies were never hindered due to lack of resources. I was given a tab and the required connectivity, and it made all the difference."

COMING TO TERMS WITH HER POTENTIAL

Despite growing up with limited means, Rani never stopped dreaming big. Each time she saw a luxurious hotel, she was eager to see what it looked like from the inside.

One of the NDDP career counselling sessions introduced Rani to the hospitality sector, which instantly channelled her thoughts in this direction. Within no time, she realized that her strengths could align well with her dreams of building a promising career in this field.

After completing her grade 12, she joined a two-year diploma program in hotel management. During the course, she also worked as an intern with Radisson Blu Plaza, Delhi. Upon completing her studies, she dedicatedly started for looking for a job. Her perseverance and relentless efforts led her to get a job at the prestigious Radisson Blu Hotel, Jaipur.

She proudly says, "Every day, I learn something new from my seniors. Whether it's the front office, handling guests, or managing administration, I'm involved in every task."

GROWING AND GIVING BACK

The personality development sessions provided by NDDP played a significant role in Rani's journey, helping her develop emotional intelligence and improve her social and communication skills. She was also granted a scholarship for her higher education, which greatly relieved her parents from financial stress.

Today, Rani continues to give back. She attends NDDP online sessions as a peer role model, guiding and nurturing the junior batches, and helping them realize the critical role that career planning and hard work play in uplifting their lives.

Rani's story inspires many. She inspires girls, like her, to focus on their growth & development and relentlessly strive towards achieving their goals without looking back.
