Newgen Recognized as a 'Niche Player' in 2025 Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Business Orchestration and Automation Technologies

October 29, 2025: Newgen Software, a global provider of AI-enabled end-to-end automation at scale, announced that it has been recognized as a 'Niche Player' in the 2025 Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Business Orchestration and Automation Technologies (BOAT). The evaluation acknowledges Newgen's ability to execute and the completeness of its vision.

The report assessed 20 global vendors to guide decision makers to select a business process automation platform. Gartner defines BOAT as a consolidated software platform that delivers enterprise process automation by enabling capabilities including orchestration of business processes, enterprise connectivity, low-code development, and agentic automation.

"We're thrilled to be recognized in the Gartner® Magic Quadrant™ for Business Orchestration and Automation Technologies," said Runki Goswami, CMO at Newgen Software. "To us, this recognition underscores our commitment to delivering a unified automation platform that empowers enterprises to orchestrate complex workflows, accelerate innovation, and unlock new opportunities in the AI-first era."

NewgenONE, the company's flagship AI-enabled platform, combines process orchestration, content intelligence, low-code application development, and automation capabilities to enable enterprises to build agile and scalable digital ecosystems. The platform supports document-centric workflows, advanced case management, and seamless integration with legacy and modern systems, making it a strong fit for highly regulated industries such as banking, insurance, government, and healthcare.

We perceive that we have been recognized for our core strength - the capability to unify content management, case management, and automation on a single platform.

The company continues to invest in expanding its AI and agentic automation capabilities, enabling organizations to automate complex, document-heavy processes at scale while maintaining regulatory compliance and operational excellence.
